FROM THE CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Thank you for your support of The Lighthouse. In March of this year, The Lighthouse turned 70, and it has been a whirlwind of a year. We are a community effort. The staff, medical partners, service providers, government agencies, board members, Lions and volunteers who work with us make it possible to serve 29,323 Georgians.

In October of this year, Dave Paule completed two years at the helm, and the progress he and the staff have made in that time has been extraordinary. They have professionalized the back office processes, increased fundraising by more than 50%, and have launched our first satellite operation in Savannah. Important to the mission, applications for vision care, hearing and surgeries are now accessible online! When he and I sat down to review the progress on the 3-year strategic plan, the staff had achieved most of the truly difficult goals. More importantly, we collectively know and understand our business more than ever.

We are at a crucial point in our evolution. The need for our work has never been greater in Georgia. Despite our legacy of contribution and accomplishment, 51 counties in Georgia have no optometrist at all. Even more do not have access to pediatric eye care. In Metro Atlanta alone, Learn4Life estimates that nearly 78,000 children need glasses and do not have access to them nor can they afford them. We face tremendous challenges to grow and serve more patients statewide. There is a serious need to expand and diversify our donor base and presence throughout Georgia.

Being a leader of this organization is both rewarding and challenging. Yet, despite the biggest challenges, every time I am at The Lighthouse I see dedicated men and women who daily rise to the occasion with compassion, good humor, and goodwill. And more importantly, I see patients who we have served who have had their lives forever improved by those people.

The challenges are immense, yet at The Lighthouse, in all things, it's the mission that matters.

Tim G. Dunn, P.E.
Chairman of the Board of Directors
November, 2019

FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Back in October, when I completed my second full year at the helm of The Lighthouse, it seemed like a good time to reread my annual report letter from 2017 – when I'd just completed my second full week.

Over the past two years, we've adopted and implemented a new strategic plan, breathed new life into already-thriving programs, established a satellite Lighthouse in Savannah, and created numerous key partnerships around the state with medical providers, charity clinics, grantors, donors, and peer organizations.

As 2019 draws to a close, it is my distinct pleasure to share with you that, thanks to the unrelenting hard work and dedication of our staff, board, and volunteers, The Lighthouse's position within Georgia's charity-care community is stronger and more respected than ever before.

The Lighthouse had ambitious plans going into FY19. We wanted to focus on expansion with an eye toward demonstrating scalability; that is, proof that the organization can support one to five percent of the need in Georgia (roughly 10,000-50,000 individuals) by providing customized, area- and even venue-specific services throughout the state. For the poorest, remotest parts of Georgia, that would likely mean a full-service eye clinic; for better-equipped areas, perhaps a glasses-only clinic or even just vision screening.

In pursuit of that expansion, we dedicated resources to 1) recruiting new eye care providers; 2) establishing new partnerships with community health centers around the state; and 3) automating and digitizing our program application processes.

The results of those efforts speak for themselves: at the close of this year, we are more than 40 percent of the way to the service numbers necessary to begin planning – not just thinking about – a presence outside Georgia. Our Frame Kit program is perhaps the best example of this. In January, I challenged Director of Operations Peri Finch to grow the Frame Kit program beyond even its already-impressive numbers from the previous fiscal year, and he did not disappoint. We closed FY19 having nearly doubled our previous year's number (780) to 1,551 Frame Kit patients served.

The Challenges

At the start of each fiscal year, I like to sit down and identify what I consider to be the “real problems” facing The Lighthouse. While there are several strategic imperatives facing us, there are three that I think merit special attention.

First, the state of healthcare in Georgia is placing ever-increasing demands on our resources. While the Affordable Care Act improved access to insurance for citizens, it does not address the bigger, more dire problem of access to actual healthcare. There are more than 50 counties in Georgia with no access to an optometrist or ophthalmologist, and significantly more with no access to pediatric eye care. This has made the mobile clinic programs even more vital, and made more urgent the need for our presence throughout the state.

Volunteer optometrist Michael Dasinger
(Dahlonega/Dawsonville)

However, The Lighthouse has taken the volunteer optometrist model about as far as possible. Over the last four years, there has been a significant influx of private equity into healthcare, driving massive consolidation of medical practices. While this consolidation improves efficiency and costs for the providers, it reduces flexibility and availability to support volunteer programs like ours. As a result, even though the number of clinic events increased this year, the number of patients served declined due to a change in patient mix driven by optometrist availability and funding.

This problem will not turn around in the coming year. Ultimately, we must move to a compensation model for our providers.

Second, there is a strong need for consolidation in Georgia’s medical nonprofit community. Taxexemptworld.com reports that there are more than 77,000 nonprofits in Georgia alone. There are nearly 30 nonprofits offering similar or complementary services to The Lighthouse vision programs listed in the Georgia Vision Resource Guide.

Just as for-profit medical service providers are consolidating to improve efficiency, nonprofits must also find opportunities for greater efficiency.

The third? There has never been a more exciting time for vision and hearing technology. Nearly every day, a new device or procedure emerges to help improve vision and hearing. And, because as a nonprofit we don’t answer to Wall Street investors, we are uniquely qualified to explore these technologies. One cannot successfully run a nonprofit with the approach that old solutions are “good enough” for our clientele. The imperative to keep up with these is as paramount for us as for any for-profit medical practice.

The Future

Fortunately for our future, while each of these imperatives brings with it specific challenges, none is insurmountable given the considerable donor loyalty, staff and board devotion, and institutional support we enjoy. In fact, already we've made significant progress overcoming all three.

We have had tremendous success in spreading the word among Georgia's eye care providers of the opportunities available to serve the uninsured and under-insured through The Lighthouse mobile and Chamblee clinics. Thanks to generous funding from the Georgia Baptist Health Care Ministry Foundation, for the first time we have been able to offer a flat daily rate to independent providers at mobile clinics, further incentivizing their participation and enhancing The Lighthouse's reputation among its partners for resourcefulness and dedication to patients.

We were also the grateful recipients of a grant from the Georgia Charitable Care Network to partially fund optometrist staffing - an addition that could revolutionize our service model virtually overnight. Ultimately, an on-staff optometrist would enable The Lighthouse mobile clinic to set up shop anywhere with electricity - a church, community center, or even a hotel lobby - without the challenge of accommodating a volunteer provider's schedule and coordinating his or her travel.

With regard to consolidation, I am pleased to report that our relationship with Atlanta healthcare mainstay Emory Eye Center has grown stronger every year since 2017, when we first participated in World Vision Day as part of vision-advocacy group Georgia Vision 2020. That group, led by Emory ophthalmologists Jacquelyn O'Banion and Natalie Weil, has been key in centralizing affordable, accessible eye care for uninsured and under-insured Georgians in the metro area - with plans for outward expansion already in motion. Vision 2020 is a World Healthcare Organization entity established with the goal of eliminating avoidable blindness worldwide by the end of 2020. It brings resources to bear in other countries. Georgia 2020 does the same thing locally. The Lighthouse, the Atlanta Lions, Emory, Prevent Blindness Georgia, The Center for the Visually Impaired, the Georgia Eye Bank and many other organizations are working to better coordinate services and fundraising to improve vision care.

And, finally, while our technological march forward may not always be as rapid as we would like, it is steady and building momentum every day. In October, 2019, we completed the transition to an online, fully HIPAA-compliant application system, for the first time granting patients the ability to apply for Lighthouse services via their smartphone, tablet, or computer. We also adopted a secure, encrypted cloud-based platform to send and receive sensitive patient documents to complement that system, removing forever the need for patients to scan, fax, or snail-mail any part of their application.

Going forward, we expect to debut a fully redesigned and highly functional modernized website by the end of March, 2020 – a move that will aid tremendously in solidifying The Lighthouse’s position as a relevant, flexible, and innovative member of Georgia’s charity-care community.

Lions and Vision Day volunteers Trudy Rudert and Norcross Lions Sonia Lopez and Jesus Lopez

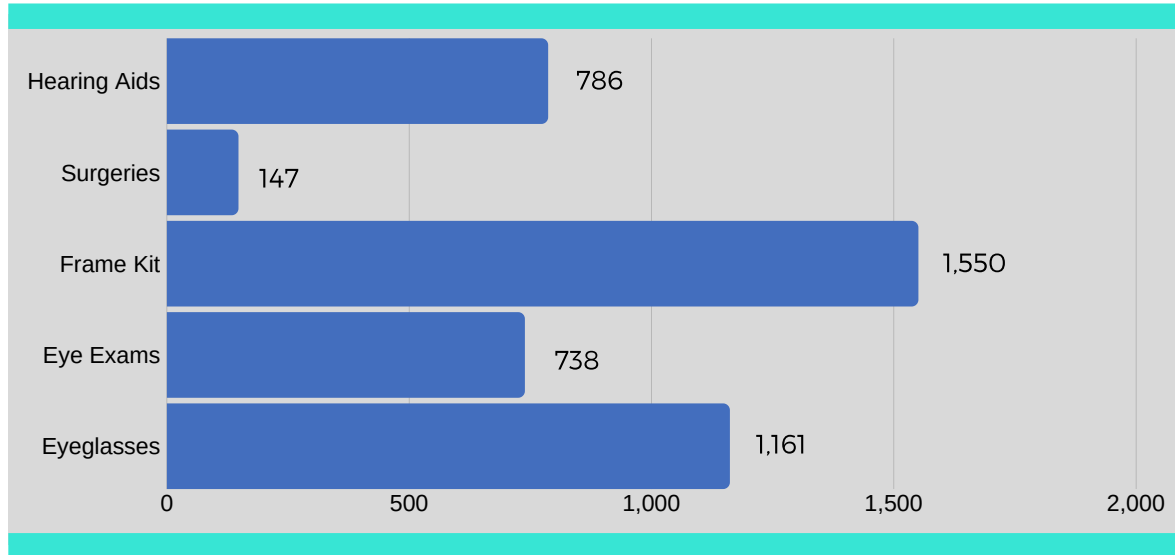

This year, as every year, we owe a debt of gratitude to so many wonderful individuals and organizations whose belief in and support of our mission made it possible for us to serve thousands of Georgians in need. I am deeply grateful to the Lighthouse staff and board of directors for their commitment to our patients; to everyone – individual and institutional – who has given generously to support our work; to our numerous partner clinics for working alongside us to achieve better care for more people; and to our extraordinary roster of volunteer eye care providers and audiology partners. Without any of these groups, we could not fulfill our mission. In addition to the organizations mentioned above, the Lions of Georgia, the Georgia Public Service Commission, the Kaiser Permanente Health Plan of Georgia, Frasier Parker, the Friedman Family Philanthropic Fund of the Jewish Federation of Greater Atlanta and many, many donors have made the successful journey from October 2017 possible. We thank everyone reading this for their support.

We move into 2020 with a renewed sense of purpose and a better set of tools for fulfilling it. It is my hope that, this time next year, we may all look back on this time as a prelude to the best and brightest days of The Lighthouse’s existence.

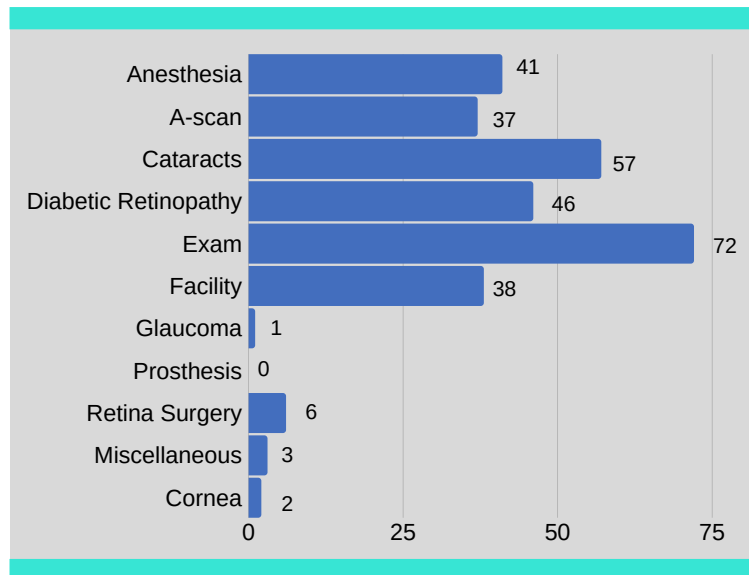

David M. Paule

Evening in the END ZONE

A Southern Tradition

THE LIGHTHOUSE'S PLACE IN COLLEGE FOOTBALL HISTORY

The Lighthouse held its second annual celebration of college football and athlete philanthropy on Oct. 18, 2018, at the College Football Hall of Fame. The first celebration, held in 2017, marked the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Peach Bowl by Lighthouse supporter George Crumbley as a fundraiser for The Lighthouse. In the half century since its founding, the Peach Bowl has been a strong, consistent source of support for The Lighthouse's mission and helped cement Atlanta's status as the college football capital of the world.

Attended by some of Georgia's best-known athletes and philanthropists - including Ron Canakar, limited partner of the Atlanta Falcons, Beacon of Hope honoree Dr. William J. Degenhart, College Football Hall of Fame inductee Kevin Butler, and Heisman Trophy winner Danny Wuerffel - Evening in the End Zone is a union of sports and good works like no other.

SAVANNAH

In February, 2018, The Lighthouse established its first permanent presence outside Atlanta with a satellite office in Savannah. With an uninsured rate topping 20 percent and existing provider support from volunteer ophthalmologists and Savannah residents Dr. William Degenhart and Dr. Henry Croci, Savannah was the obvious first choice for Lighthouse expansion. In the months since its opening, the Savannah location has flourished, with full-time clinic staff and thriving partnerships with Curtis V. Cooper Primary Health Care and the Savannah Center for Blind and Low Vision.

Night of Spectacles

ATLANTA, GA | 2019

The Lighthouse resurrected "Night of Spectacles" in 2019 and treated Atlanta to an elegant reception showcasing spectacles and all mediums of art in support of those in need of vision and hearing care. Graciously hosted by PIETRA Luxury in Stone, the evening included an art auction, delicious food and libations, and the musical styling of Del Baroni and Tony Winston.

The showcased work came from local artists such as Erika Guillory Page and Blayne Macauley, and students from Brenau University and Georgia Southern University, whose submissions were made using recycled eyeglasses.

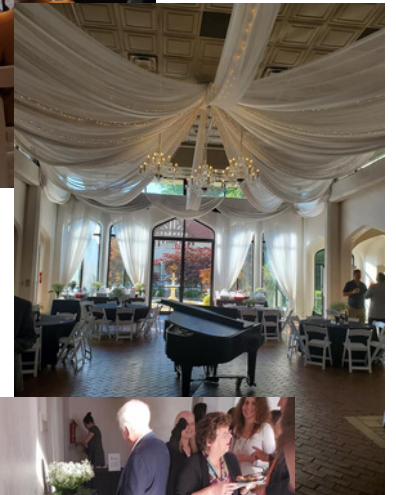

NAVIGATE!

"Come see what we hear"

Navigate! returned in 2019 for the second year as a fundraiser for The Lighthouse's hearing programs.

With the incomparable Callanwolde Fine Arts Center as a background, a live pianist, and the public debut of Sonny, our pediatric hearing program mascot - plus an a capella performance by Atlanta opera singer Megan Mashburn - Navigate! was an evening of both lighthearted fun and timeless elegance.
